

She Knew

only God could change the outcome
but she would have to take the step

there was nothing
more beautiful
than a woman unafraid
to be herself

the real woman
she wanted to become
was on the other side of fear

her messy past
could become her beautiful purpose

He had a
plan and a purpose for her life, so she believed

giving without expectations allowed for a life of abundance
without limitations

He worked His good
in all things
so she trusted

she was an ordinary girl
in the hands of an extraordinary God

there was nothing
the enemy had taken that God could not restore

her difficulty was God's opportunity to use
her story
for
His Glory

she needed to wipe the tears from her face
and trade her
Fear for some Faith

she had two choices:
1. She could find a way
2. She could find an excuse